Dear San Jose AGO members:

This is a short update bulletin with the following items:

1. Updated time for this Friday's October 28 Halloween Concert with young organists performing at the Congregational Church of San Mateo: the program begins at 8:00 pm (not 7:00 as previously published). Come support the next generation of organists, and have some Halloween fun!
2. This Sunday at 5:00 pm there is a one-hour concert followed by reception at St. Mark's Episcopal church in Palo Alto. See the flyer and program below. This looks to be a very interesting concert, played by Joy-Leilani Garbutt, PhD and current Director of Music at St. Luke's San Francisco, who will play a program of all women composers. Dr. Garbutt received a Fulbright scholarship, spending a year in France studying 20th-century organ music by female composers, and is co-founder of the Boulanger Initiative (click here to learn more).
3. There are 2 new job listings (see below under the concert flyer)
4. The deadline for the next newsletter is Monday, Nov. 14. Please use the button at the very bottom to submit all of your holiday concerts, job listings, and submitted articles and photos (high-res jpegs, please).

Ms. Leilani will be featured in a solo performance this Sunday at St. Mark's Episcopal Church, 600 Colorado Ave., Palo Alto. AGO members, students and seniors attend for $10. Kids are free. Other adults: $20 suggested.
